Big Business

By Inez Robb

WOODLAND, Calif.

ANYONE in the audience looking for material for an inspirational address, to the effect that America is still a land of opportunity, is welcome to steal anything that follows.

When Fred Heidrick, 38, and his brother, Joe, 39, decided to go to farming 16 years ago, they didn't have a nickel to their names. Much less a high school education. All they had was a passion for agriculture and mechanics.

So they spat on their hands, rolled up their sleeves and went to work. Somehow, 15 years ago, they got their hands on 160 acres of land and an old Ford tractor. Today they are millionaires, have 20,000 acres under cultivation and own the most highly organized equipment, much of which they have designed themselves, valued at $750,000—at a minimum.

Inez Robb

Even in this, Yolo County, which cheerfully acknowledges that it is the richest agricultural county in the world, the Heidrick brothers are the wonder of their neighbors. The mechanization of the Heidrick farms is so all-inclusive that it needs a two-way intercommunication system between farm headquarters and much of the heavy equipment in the field.

"SAVES TIME," explained Fred Heidrick, a tall, laconic man, who was summoned in from the fields by the squawk box in his office. He looked slightly more seedy than the men he employes.

"Farming's dirty work," he said, apologizing for the caked trousers, the the faded blue shirt. "Always has been, always will be."

But if mechanization can't take the dirt out of farming it can take out much of the drudgery, he and his brother have proved.

This year the Heidrick brothers will plant and harvest 5,000 acres of rice and human hands will scarcely touch the stuff in the process.

What is still a back-breaking, cookie crop in the Orient is—in California—a machine operation from beginning to end. The Heidricks will seed their 5,000 acres of rice by plane, a standard practice in this state. In due course, the rice will be fertilized and sprayed by plane.

BY OCTOBER, WHEN the rice matures, the paddies will be drained of water, and seven gigantic Heidrick harvesters will be loosed in the fields.

The Heidrick harvester, designed by the brothers and now manufactured commercially by a Sacramento firm, is a mammoth Rube Goldberg invention on tracks. Yet it can be operated by one man who sits in a sort of how-dow, under a canvas canopy, abaft the contraption.

The Heidrick harvester sells for about $2,000 and the brothers own seven of them. They also own and operate 20 big Caterpillar tractors at 18,000 per, 20-wheel tractors, 10 gigantic pieces of land - leveling equipment, 25 trucks and pick-ups, one fire-fighting engine, "a half-dozen or so hay-balers," plows, discs, harrows and seeders.

THERE ARE ALSO two grease trucks whose sole duty is to go from field to field to keep other equipment rolling. In the 10-man machine shop on the homeplace, the machines are kept in repair and the Heidricks eternally invent new gadgets like the hydraulic fork lift that loads 75 bales of hay at a time and eliminates this bit of old-time farm drudgery.

In addition to the 5,000 acres of rice, the Heidrick brothers in 1951 will plant and harvest 4,000 acres of barley, 1,200 acres of alfalfa, 600 acres of sugar beets, 600 acres of tomatoes, 200 acres of oats, 200 acres of Egyptian corn, and 600 acres of Sudan seed.

The rice alone will gross about $1,000,000.

The Heidrick brothers have turned farming into big business, but they still set the alarm clock for 5 a.m. Mechanization or no mechanization, the farmer's day is still from sun to sun.

An an American boy can still grow up to be rich or president.

Lonely Men

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

IT IS always lonelier on a mountain peak than in a valley.

It's that way with military life, too. The generals are lonelier than the lieutenants. Sometimes I think they are among the loneliest of all men, particularly in combat zones.

To the ordinary private who has so many bosses he sometimes feels like a hare surrounded by a high picket fence, the life of a general looks like one long dream of luxurious liberty.

Nobody can tell the general what to do," the low man on the Army totem pole tells himself enviously. "He can go where he wants to. He can bunk down when he wants to and get up when he wants to. He don't have to work in the mud—he can fly over it in his own plane.

HAL BOYLE

"He can get what he wants to eat and all the liquor he wants to drink. He sleeps between sheets. He don't have to polish his own boots. He's got a high-class valet to do all his dog-robbing errands for him. Man, how do they ever get a job like that?"

AND, OF COURSE, the average private envies the privilege which legend accords to most generals—the privilege of dying in bed instead of upon the battlefield.

The general, however, sees his own life in no such light. He feels he is hedged about by almost as many rules as the private, and often he rather yearns to have the private's sense of freedom when duties are done.

For there is no such thing as complete freedom for a general. He is held down by orders from those above him, and he is restricted in many ways by the opinions of those under his own command.

"I can't afford to let myself worry too much whether my officers and men like me or hate me," a general told me once. "But I do have to be sure they respect me—and that they will carry out my orders."

BEING BOSS MEANS having less plain ordinary human fun. When they throw a party on an Army post, the commanding general and his lady arrive early—and they leave early. They can't hang around and let down their hair with the lower-rank lads and their lassies. It wouldn't do. And generals who try to be "one of the boys" find out it's a mistake. Some of the boys are sure to misunderstand. Or some will try to take advantage of the situation. Authority must remain upright—and keep its distance.

"It isn't caste snobbery," one general's wife explained. "The general can't mix too freely in social life for fear the idea will get around that he's playing favorites. That wrecks morale."

In battle areas the general is really lonely. His companionship is even more limited. He cannot share his responsibility and there is no vacation from it. He rarely feels emotionally the death in battle of individual men under him. If he did, he couldn't stand the tension of being a general.

BUT A GENERAL traditionally does regard his command as part of his own body. And any considerable loss of his men—any loss he could have avoided—is as a spearthrust into his own side. That is part of his military creed, his code of life. And sometimes generals whose units have been hit too hard have to be relieved for the same reason a boxer has to retire. The hurt of repeated punches has made him too cautious.

Ordering other men to their deaths must by the nature of its task be a lonely job to men who live on the highest peak of decision. That is why, probably, the only person who can really understand a general is—another general.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HEARD ON THIS BEAT:

THERE was a [illegible] of lefty [illegible] Quill, who [illegible] for [illegible] to be [illegible] protect himself—as [illegible] to the Reds. He [illegible] to good [illegible] pistol [illegible] window. The [illegible] bringing [illegible] Water [illegible] about [illegible] the Communist [illegible] [illegible] knowledge of [illegible] how he [illegible] or pro- [illegible] himself. He's right at what [illegible] he couldn't get.

But now, apparently, Quill believes the Chinese Communists are less of [illegible]

Victor Riesel

[illegible] Mike Quill after having tried a way by long distance phone. Cole [illegible] turned it down.

Now Lewis is blasting Walter Reuther, around whose shoulder Mr. Truman very ostentatiously threw a cordial arm, in full view of the nation's labor and business leaders inside the White House. Lewis' private press refers insultingly to Reuther as "thinking with his mouth . . . (and) . . . again displaying his profound ignorance . . ." And Lewis' right hand man, the Miners' Union vice-president, Tom Kennedy, is going through the coal areas telling this story:

"When World War II started there was a gentleman of Polish extraction who lived on a farm in the anthracite region. He drove into town one morning and went into Willy Doherty's saloon. Willy knew him and said, 'Well, John, there's a big war going on.' John says: 'Who's fighting?' Willy says: 'England, France, Belgium, the U. S., Italy . . .' And he went down the line. John says 'Ireland fightin'?' Willy says: 'No, Ireland's not in it'. 'Oh,' says John, 'no big war'."

And, Lewis' lieutenant adds, "That's true of the situation in Washington today. With the United Mine Workers out of this picture, it's no big fight."

THIS HAPPENED in the White House and reveals how close Mr. Truman now tries to get to the labor people with whom he's been feuding. The other day they were discussing the new wage board, and one union leader, who very much wanted it set up as they had it planned, told the President that Attorney General Howard McGrath had ruled it illegal. Mr. Truman snapped:

"Look, you tell me what you want to do and what you want and I'll get the ruling."

THERE ARE NOW 13,200,000 U. S. factory workers, putting in a 41 1-hour week for an all time record average of $64.36, nearly $8 more than a year ago. However, basic foods which cost $100 a month in 1939 now cost $185 . . .

The rim of the Dead Sea is the lowest land surface on earth.

HADACOL

HERE'S WHAT THEY ARE SAYING FROM COAST TO COAST
HADACOL Relieves The Cause of Stomach Distress, Aches and Pains, Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Poor Appetite and Nervousness When Due to a Deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

E. A. Drumright, 313 Main St., Nashville, Tenn., says this about today's great HADACOL: "I feel I should write you and tell you what HADACOL has done for me. I was run-down and not able to work and had no ambition. All I wanted to do was sleep. I took HADACOL and went to work and am feeling fine and have a good appetite, and sleep good. I can recommend HADACOL to anyone in a run-down condition. I am 68 years old and have taken six bottles."

HADACOL is so economical—only $1.25 for trial size.

Mrs. Ardena Longaker, Rt. 5, Meadowbrook Rd., North Kansas City, Mo.: "I am a minister's wife and am 39 years old. Two years ago I had an operation and just had a hard time getting back my energy. I was run-down, lost weight, was listless, and had no appetite at all. I'm on my fifth bottle now and am amazed at the results. I want to eat all the time now. Most of all, I'm glad to say, I've gained several pounds. HADACOL is so economical I believe almost anyone can afford it, and I do recommend it to my friends."

Frank W. Woche, 531 Apache, Houston, Texas: "I was so run-down and my son-in-law suggested I take HADACOL. I had lost lots of weight and was tired all the time. After the first small bottle I started feeling better right away. I have now taken four more large bottles and wouldn't be without HADACOL. HADACOL has done so much for me. It's wonderful and all of my friends saw how bad I was looking and now tell me how much better I look. I can't say enough for HADACOL."

Mrs. LaRue Unsbee, Saunemin, Illinois: "My son Gary is four years old, and will be five in July. His grandfather, Mr. J. W. Simmons who lives with us, was taking HADACOL and it helped him. We had been having so much trouble getting Gary to eat. It seemed as if it would take the entire family to coax him to eat. After we started giving him HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He will eat three hearty meals a day, gets up in the morning all set for a big breakfast. HADACOL has certainly helped Gary's appetite."

Mrs. J. E. Roberts, 1516 Lincoln, Little Rock, Ark.: "I am a mother with five children and with all my housework I was so run-down and just couldn't seem to eat at all. I heard about HADACOL and decided to try it, to see if it would help me. I could tell from the first bottle that it was helping me. I started eating right away—my appetite picked up a lot. After that I took three more bottles of HADACOL, and really believe that HADACOL is a good product, and it has certainly helped me."

Mrs. Letha Fitzpatrick, 401 E. Elm St., Scottsville, Ky.: "I couldn't sleep. I didn't have any appetite and wasn't able to do anything. Then I heard and read about HADACOL and what it had done for others. I decided to give it a trial. I have taken several bottles and I can truthfully say it has really helped me. I feel so much better. I have a lot more strength. I can eat now and I'm gaining weight. I do my work, work in my flowers, also in the garden. Now I'm putting up my fruit and vegetables. I can't thank HADACOL enough for what it's done for me."

Mrs. Thomas Fanning, Francisco, Ala., says about her daughter, Norine: "I just want to say a few words about HADACOL. I can't praise it enough for what it has done for my little seven-year-old girl. She was weak and pale, and did not eat very much. So, I decided to try HADACOL. Now, she eats more and has a better color and has gained weight. My friends and neighbors all are talking about her looking so much better. I can't say enough for it. I recommend it to my friends and neighbors or anybody. I will know from now on what to get when any of my family needs help."

Mrs. Anne Franks, 434 West Seven St., Newport, Ky.: "As a constant user of HADACOL—and am on my fourth bottle—would not hesitate to acclaim it the best. I was so run-down I could hardly do my work. And that is important as I do a man's job in a shoe factory. I felt that I did not have enough energy to lift my hands. I felt so let-down everything annoyed me. But since I've taken my first bottle, I've been helped so much that now I'm up and ready and anxious to get my work done and am not tired, but am able to do my housework. I cannot praise HADACOL and its makers enough."

Mrs. Margaret Gordon, 113 Forrest St., Clover, S. Car.: "I didn't have the energy to do anything, and I couldn't sleep at night. I had gas pains all the time. So many friends told me how it had helped them, so I decided to try HADACOL. I have taken three bottles, and am on my fourth bottle. I can't express my gladness for all that it has done for me. Now, I can sleep well at night, and I work. I praise HADACOL very much. I will not do without HADACOL anymore. It has done wonders for me. I can eat anything I wish now, and it doesn't hurt me any more. I am 26 years of age."

Miss Ometha White, 1709 Bush Ave., Alexandria, La.: "I am 25 years old and have lived in Alexandria all my life. I am employed by a canning company. A year ago I was nervous and run-down. I lost my appetite and couldn't sleep. A friend told me about HADACOL and I decided to try it. I have been taking one bottle a week for a year and I can report wonderful results. I am gaining weight, my nerves are OK . . . I have a good appetite and I can sleep nights again. One bottle a week did it and I recommend HADACOL to all who have my ailments."

Mrs. Joe Bukowski, 921 Sanborn St., Ottumwa, Iowa: "Before I started taking HADACOL it was nearly impossible for me to do my housework. . . . I was weak, nervous, didn't sleep well, and lacked an appetite. But thanks to regular use of HADACOL, I now do all my housework, sleep well, and have a good appetite. I don't have that tired-out feeling. I'm really 100 per cent better since taking HADACOL."

Mrs. Walter Shields, Hornsbyville, Va., says about her young son: "I have a little boy who had stomach distress every time he went riding in a car. Nothing did him any good. . . . I heard about HADACOL and have given him two bottles. He doesn't suffer from his stomach any more."

HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel great with the first few bottles you take or your money back.

Mrs. Anna M. Dehlendorf, 631 E. Pope St., St. Louis 15, Mo.: "I have been taking HADACOL for six months, and feel fine again. I was rundown. I am 60 years old, and do housework, laundry by the day for different parties, and I also do baby sitting in the evening. Before I started taking HADACOL, I was underweight—I only weighed 97 pounds. Now my weight is 135 pounds. I eat good, sleep good, and feel good."

Marcus Dee Starkey, 1866 Farrow St., Kansas City, Kansas: "Before taking HADACOL, I suffered such stomach distress after each meal I could hardly work. My wife bought me a bottle of HADACOL, and I will bless the day she did this for me. I took this wonderful discovery and after one week I was actually surprised at the results. I have now taken four of the large bottles, and that isn't all, I will continue taking it."

Mrs. Lula Nelsoni, 1702 E. 63rd Street, Huntington Park, Los Angeles, California: "I was run-down, couldn't sleep at night, had aches and pains and with seven children to care for I couldn't get my work done. After three bottles of HADACOL I felt so much better I could do more work than ever before. I've been taking HADACOL ever since and feel so good. I now give it to my children and it has helped them, too."

Bigger Than the Law

THE [illegible] of the Kefauver committee [illegible] down hard on William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York City.

Mr. O'Dwyer said [illegible]

The committee might [illegible] have included in its list of reasons for handling [illegible] who is "to be bigger than the law that the people should learn to manhandle public officials no bigger than the hoodlums.

Mayor O'Dwyer and the hoodlums, themselves, [illegible] are unwilling or unable to make a moral distinction between themselves, the prestige of the offices they [illegible] the corrupting influences of men like Frank Costello.

In the struggle to determine whether or not [illegible] gambling and organized vice have produced leaders bigger than the law, [illegible] officials who do not distinguish between [illegible] and wide-open cities, prey for gambling and vice lords.

The only way to protect the public interest is to get rid of public officials who are sitting ducks for the first hoodlum who draws a bead on them.

Mr. O'Dwyer was presided over organized corruption in the world's greatest city and was rewarded by the Democratic party with an ambassadorship when things got too hot for comfort. He is a product of machine politics—the same kind which placed Harry Truman in the White House—the same Mr. Truman who gave Mr. O'Dwyer an ambassadorship as a party plum—the same party which maintains itself in power by stuffing up majorities in cities like New York where politicians and racketeers are all mixed together.

John H. Bartram

A PROFESSIONAL career of honor and distinction came to a close yesterday with the death of John H. Bartram, an attorney in Marion for almost three score years.

Mr. Bartram was prominently identified with Marion and its development during the greater part of his life and in his activities he performed valuable service toward helping promote growth and progress of the community.

As a lawyer he won recognition which rates his career as outstanding and makes a worthy addition to the notable record of his family, which had its beginning in the pioneer days of Marion County and has continued prominent in community affairs through the years.

Included in the family line of four generations of lawyers, a record without parallel in Marion County's genealogical records.

John H. Bartram, representing the third generation of this line, has contributed a life story of noteworthy service and achievement as an addition to this important family chapter in the county's history.

Room for Improvement

JAMES A. FARLEY has outlined a commencement address which could not be made too often in the next few weeks. Speaking at a dinner in his honor the former postmaster general of the United States said public leaders must set a good example for the rising generation.

Otherwise, he said, the impact on youth [illegible] of [illegible] in public places can be very serious. Young people will get the idea that the ordinary decencies have been abandoned.

Publicity Gets Results

By David Lawrence

Mistake Seen in MacArthur Ouster Probe Secrecy

WASHINGTON

SECRECY and suppression are the refuge of the incompetent and the blunderers in government. Publicity, with everything put on the table, is the enemy of scandal and abuse of power.

These principles apply equally to military and civilian affairs.

The Kefauver hearings proved the point conclusively.

The decision to carry on in secret the investigation touched off by the President's arbitrary removal of General MacArthur is, therefore, a serious error which can only increase the distrust that the American people feel now about the Administration and the Democratic party, which is now in control of the government.

LAWRENCE

It is a curious thing that the Democrats voted solidly for secrecy and the Republicans voted for open sessions of the Senate armed services committee.

The only excuse for closed sessions which has a semblance of logic is the claim that there are secret directives of a military nature, the texts of which ought not to be revealed for security reasons.

The principal security reason, of course, is the security of the Democratic Administration. It is doubtful if there is a single document now in the records really needed for the hearings which could give military aid to the enemy if made public. The habit of recent years in Washington is to put the "top secret" or "classified information" label on anything or everything that might cause a bureaucrat annoyance or put him on the defensive.

THE ENDS of a legitimate safeguard of secret information can be served by paraphrasing the documents so that the enemy will not be able to decode anything they may have picked up heretofore of our secret messages. Once this paraphrasing is done—and it is being done nearly every week in some form with respect to diplomatic exchanges—there is no real danger in the publication of the information.

But in the event that a document emerges or is referred to in the open hearings which could be the source of military information, all the presiding officer at the hearings has to do is close the hearings for an interval at that point until the particular document is examined in secret, whereupon the open hearings could be resumed.

The procedure decided upon by the Democratic majority in the Senate armed services committee will be to hold secret hearings and then allow a transcript to be edited and the edited version will be issued to the public.

THE NEWSPAPERMEN will have to buy the transcript from stenographers—paying about 40 cents for every 150 or 200 words of testimony. The press will have no opportunity to observe the demeanor of witnesses. The delay between the time the testimony is given and the time the transcript will be available for publication may be hours, if not days. Meanwhile, the reporters will ask both the witnesses and the members of the committee what happened, and will get paraphrases and condensed versions which may or may not be influenced by the prejudice of the senators who gave out the information.

The press does not as a rule reproduce an exact copy of what has previously been paraphrased in the first dispatches. The end result is that a hearing of profound importance to the safety of the American people, involving past actions and the evolution of our foreign policy as well as our military policy, will get to the public for the most part in fragmentary and confusing form.

GENERAL MACARTHUR himself declined to specify how he wished the hearings to be held—whether they should be open or closed. He took the position that he, as a witness, really should not express an opinion and that it should be left to the committee to decide. This was a wise approach because the committee intended to vote for closed sessions anyway. The pressure from the Pentagon is to keep as much as possible from the public which would show that the military men concur even in part with General MacArthur. There is such fear in the Pentagon of getting in bad with the civilian or political side of the government that officers prefer not even to discuss the MacArthur affair.

So it all boils down to the fact that, while America is suffering casualties in Korea due to a policy of limitation which General MacArthur has questioned, the American people are not going to get the full story of the reasons why the civilian authority in government has substituted its own opinions for the judgment of competent military men in the field.

Net Assets

By TRUMAN TWILL

SOME federal economist with nothing better to do has figured out that it costs $21,500 to raise a child from infancy to graduation from high school— and we hereby object.

We object because this is another statistic which does not mean anything, yet will be used over and over again to prove this, that and other the thing. Any fool knows that child-rearing is no place for statistics.

We object, also, because the total is stated in what passes for money these days, instead of in terms of percentages. Even if the statistic, itself, were reliable, which it clearly is not, it would have to be stated differently.

It is not reliable, of course, because it is stated as a net cost, whereas the fact is that in any well-regulated family the outlay of funds on a blessed event and what ensues thereafter is more than offset by gains and savings.

It can be demonstrated by any honest parent that a child can be raised for nothing, or less than nothing—that a child is actually a net asset. This may surprise married couples with no children, especially if they think they are economically more secure for being childless.

Everything depends on what you do with your money. Some people spend it foolishly and get nothing in return but a lot of clutter. Others invest it in the only gilt-edged security that has animate value.

They invest it in moments of satisfaction which will be followed by intervals of doubt; in gales of laughter that will contain from time to time a fine mist of salty tears; in the joys of companionship that will be tempered by leave-takings and perhaps even forgetfulness.

But there is no counting of costs, not among parents. This is left to accountants, to inhumane persons who have been so thoroughly corrupted by materialism they cannot feel compassion any longer and to lint-heads with nothing better to do in their off moments than to match life against dollars. They should find something better to do.

Particularly when the chumps can't count. Anyone who has been through the mill knows it costs at least half a million dollars to produce a high school graduate but that the return on the investment is more than 100 percent: that is, a half million to get a million.

Anyone know a better way to build up assets in this vale of tears?

Marion County History Brevities

Hard cider was used as a remedy for all sorts of ills. A kind of "tea" made of strong, hard cider, with a pepper pod sliced into it, was a dose to make rheumatism beat a retreat; willow bark and the heart of ironwood pickled in cider, was good for fever and ague. Wild cherry bark and cider was a "warming" tonic, etc. Some of the good old pioneers were opposed to "drunkenness," produced by whisky, and thought "moderation in all things" should be the motto of every man. Yet many of these same men would drink "moderately" of hard cider so often during the day, that when night came, they hardly knew whether they were moderate drinkers or otherwise.

A Warrior Bold

Progress in Mississippi

By Raymond Moley

JACKSON, MISS.

IT IS a political axiom, verified by history, that sections with similar economic interests will ultimately have common political sympathies. For that reason the great economic revival that is going on all over the South, and notably here in Mississippi, offers the best hope that a national coalition party will ultimately grow out of the conservative elements in the Democratic party in the South and a large part of the Republican party of the North. This will depend upon the capacity of Republicans to note the ominous handwriting on the wall and transform their policies and name to make a true coalition possible. It will not take the form of enlisting southern Democrats in the Republican party, but it will come through mutual concessions based on common interests.

MOLEY

Mississippi offers a magnificent example of how rapidly the differences between the economic civilizations of the North and South are vanishing. The time is approaching when it will be difficult to distinguish southern states such as this economically from such northern states as Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio. The days of a South consigned to an almost exclusively agricultural economy passed some time ago. Now its agriculture is rapidly moving away from the old one-crop, cotton era and entering a period when it will be raising the same products as Iowa and Nebraska.

THE CATTLE INDUSTRY is growing by leaps and bounds. The advantages for this form of agriculture are obvious. Long grazing seasons of 10 months lighten the burden of housing and feeding. Lush vegetation, artesian wells, and cheaper land are other advantages. And it may be added that there is presently a tax advantage in cattle raising. Cattle raisers are moving into Mississippi from Kansas, Iowa, Texas, California, and Canada. It is reliably estimated that the value of cattle and poultry output is almost up to that of cotton and would have passed it, except for war prices and more cotton acreage this year.

In the delta country along the Mississippi River more corn, oats, and rice are being raised. Some of this soil is the richest in the world, since it has received top soil from states to the north which permitted the impoverishment of their land by the elements.

AS IN OTHER southern states, industry is moving in at a great rate. There are lower taxes, abundant labor supply, and, what is very important, conservative state and local governments not yet dominated by the political arms of organized labor.

The pulp industry is developing very fast. There is oil, too, and some natural gas.

The immense Negro population is progressing economically and in other ways. Farm ownership by Negroes has multiplied many fold in ten years.

As one man said today: "Mississippi isn't finished yet. It is just beginning. And it is free enterprise and individual energy that is making this true."

The political outcome of this is clear. More and more, the political interests of the South will, to use a MacArthur word, "mesh" with those of the North. In the face of these economic facts, there is no common sense in keeping alive ancient rivalries, political distrusts, and party division.

Marx on Russia

By George E. Sokolsky

I READ this in the British magazine "The Twentieth Century":

"On April 18, 1853, the London correspondent of the New York Tribune (now the Herald Tribune) had this to say about Russian expansion in Europe:

" . . . Thanks to the ignorance, lethargy, inconsequence and cowardice of the occidental governments, Russia has in all essentials attained its aims, one after the other . . . since Peter the Great, the Russian frontier has advanced by seven hundred miles in the direction of Berlin, Dresden and Vienna; it has moved some five hundred miles closer to Stockholm, about a thousand miles closer to Teheran . . . "

SOKOLSKY

The writer of this quotation was none other than Karl Marx. He could not have known, in 1853, that his ideas would be seeded down in Russia in 1917 and that his principal disciples would regard that country as their motherland.

Earlier, Karl Marx had warned: " . . . (under certain circumstances) it would turn out that Russia's natural frontier runs from Danzig or Stettin to Trieste. And as sure as one annexation follows another, the conquest of Turkey by Russia would only be the prelude to the annexation of Hungary, Prussia, Galicia, and to the realization of that Slav empire of which certain fanatical pan-Slav philosophers are dreaming . . . once in possession of Turkey, Russia's power is increased by half and overtops that of all the rest of Europe combined. That would be an indescribable disaster . . . The maintenance of Turkish independence, and the prevention of Russia's plans of annexation should the Ottoman empire dissolve after all, are matters of the highest importance. In this the interests of revolutionary democracy and those of England coincide . . . "

IT IS INTERESTING to compare these statements with that of Dean Acheson dated Feb. 23, 1951 to Clarence E. Moullette, in which he says:

"However, as it became clear that the rulers of the Soviet Union not only were not interested in cooperating with us, but were challenging the survival of our free institutions, and the independence of all nations, we have been obliged to build up our strength again, all of us."

Recently, in a conversation concerning Dean Acheson, I made the point that he lacks historical imagination, which is the essence of statesmanship. Such minds as Talleyrand and Disraeli could see ahead and yet they were restrained by profound knowledge of history.

Stalin, at Yalta, laid out a future for Europe and Asia beneficial to his country and his ideals of life, with the broadest strokes. Roosevelt, Hopkins and Hiss could only deal with the matters in hand. As important as such matters have seemed to be, they had to be fitted into the framework of our own tradition and history. This they did not do and, therefore brought upon us our present miseries.

Congress Quiz

Q—What Republican has the longest service in the Senate?

A—Since April 18, it has been Senator Styles Bridges (R) of New Hampshire. Bridges became a senator Jan. 3, 1937, as did Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. (R) of Massachusetts. However, Lodge resigned in 1944 to join the army and his seniority dates from Jan. 3, 1947, when he returned. When he died April 18, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan had served longest—from March 31, 1928.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Our Own Moscow Opera Critic

("Even sterner actions are threatened, following the recent ousting of the director of the world-famous Bolshoi Theater and disciplining of others associated with the production of an opera declared to give a false picture of Russian collective-farm life."—News Item)

"Home Acres," Serge Komanoff's new opera, opened at the Bolshoi Theater last night and the most successful CLOSING of the season was enjoyed by all. Here is (or we should say here WAS) a deeply moving opera of Soviet collective-farm life. And we use the word "moving" advisedly. Everybody associated with it was moved out of Russia opera forever with speed and dispatch.

PHILLIPS

The opera represented long years of study of farm life, but it was announced immediately after the performance that, by orders from the Kremlin, those involved would be summarily shifted to a job involving even longer years: a study of the salt mines. The story opens (or rather opened) in the home of Gregory Zinoloff, a Russian farmer. It is early morning. The farmer, about to start for the fields, winces. His wife Olga asks what is the matter. He replies, "My back aches. Maybe I should take it easy today." She responds with an ode, "Your Calloused Hands Endearing Are." (At this point Moscow secret police stepped to the stage and deleted the scene as creating a wholly false idea that Russian farmers ever admit backaches. They required Olga to substitute a song "Happy Calluses in the Cause of a Greater Crop in 1952.")

I found the opera a little confusing as it resumed with a scene in which Gregory goes to the barn and hitches up a plowhorse, feeding it a raw carrot and patting its head. (The police stepped in again ordering the scene out as reflecting cheap bourgeois sentimentality.) Olga suddenly remembers she hasn't seen their daughter Yanaline. This leads to a discovery she hadn't returned all night and in her room they find a note "Will not be able to help harvest the red cabbage today. Gone with Ivan." The farmer and his wife sing a duet "What'll we do for borsch?" (Agents from the Kremlin leaped to the stage once more, ordering the scene out on a charge that the introduction of the farmer's daughter was employing a decadent American idea.)

I must confess I found myself muddled as the opera resumed with Gregory singing "The Long, Long Furrow." (He was arrested at once for putting a false emphasis on the length of furrows on Russian farms. The actor objected, saying there had originally been three "longs" in the song and he had dropped one of his own volition. He was shot for resisting an officer, breach of the peace, conspiracy to employ operatic methods of the capitalistic states and singing without a license.)

When the excitement died down I turned to the stage again as Olga was starting to harvest the red cabbage with a friend of the family named Max. She is weak. He suggests that she return to the cottage and shell peas, as he harvests the cabbage. (Max was quickly dragged from the stage by five policemen for participating in a scene to imply a Russian woman would ever find collective farming tiring. Olga was warned to forget the script and ad lib in accordance with the party line.) Here the opera shifts to the city where the daughter has fled with her lover, a man known as No. 7689. She sings a number asking what his business is. He tells her he is a traveling salesman. (The Russian police now stopped the performance, denouncing the traveling salesman idea as imported from the American drama. They arrested everybody on the stage, also the composer, librettist, stage manager, director, wardrobe mistress and press agent. The orchestra saved itself by playing the popular air "So You Won't Talk.") Your opera critic, never a man to stick out his neck, is of the opinion the opera and all those connected with it stunk. The work of the police, the censors and other Kremlin agents was flawless. Long live the U.S.S.R.!

We will reserve the final accolade to General MacArthur as a flawless strategist and leader until we ascertain how long it takes him to find the right elevator at the Waldorf.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Friday, May 2, 1941.

Iraq artillery began shelling a British airdrome 60 miles west of Baghdad as the Nazi radio blared warnings of a "Holy war" about to break out in the oil-rich Near East.

Joe Whitcomb, nationally-known illustrator whose engagement to movie actress Mary Brian was announced earlier in the week, was a student at Ohio Wesleyan for three years before transferring to Ohio State in 1927, it was recalled in Delaware.

John McClain of the MGM studios in Hollywood, who had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McClain of 462 South State street, wrote a guest column in the Star. A former newspaper man who once was a member of the Star editorial staff, Mr. McClain was on the script writing staff of the movie studio.

A daughter was born at City Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. James Frey of 163 Sharpless court.

Nelson Dean of 327 Clinton street suffered a back injury while lifting a pattern at Commercial Steel Castings Co. His condition was reported good at City Hospital.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, May 2, 1931.

Will Rogers in his daily newspaper sketch observed from Hollywood: "Old Hollywood has reconciled itself to conditions of the depression better than anywhere. They have just charged off 50 percent of their husbands as a total loss, voluntarily cut alimony, reorganizing with less overhead and going back to pre-war mates and conditions.

Dean Vermillion, senior at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Vermillion of near Marion.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Worline of Olney avenue.

A hike along the Whetstone River and a breakfast with Mrs John A. Huber of the Edison pike as hostess made up a morning program of the Burroughs Nature Study Club.

Members of the faculty of Mark Street School were guests of the principal, Miss Harriet M. Christian at a dinner party in her home on South Main street.

Limerick-writing contests and other similar competitions for cash prizes have become so prevalent in the U. S., The American Magazine reports, that some $30,000,000 went to winners of national and local contests in 1950.

Ouster

ever, was not dead as a result of the subcommittee's action.

Senate minority leader Joseph Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) sensed earlier in the day the House committee would ignore the governor's plea for the ton-mile tax to help maintain highways.

So, Bartunek offered an identical ton-mile tax measure in the Senate.

The action may mean that the Senate highway committee will hear the pros and cons of the measure before adjournment, but there appears to be little chance for its passage this session.

The substitute Fink bill offered by the House subcommittee last night sets up a weight scale for truck license tags. It ranges from 85 cents per 100 pounds up to 2,000 pounds to $2.30 per 100 pounds over 12,000 pounds over 2,000 pounds.

The substitute also provides a $25 fine for the first ton of overload, a $25 fine and $1 per hundred pounds up to 5,000 pounds overload, $25 and $2 per 100 pounds overload up to 10,000 pounds and or 30 days in jail and $25 fine and $3 per 100 pounds overload above 10,000 pounds.

The full committee indicated it may recommend passage of the substitute measure today.

MacArthur

forecast Communist domination of Manchuria and China itself, twin events now history.

In Direct Conflict

Wherry, Senate G.O.P. leader, said the "administration policy seems to be just the opposite of the Wedemeyer report and that report seems to conform pretty well the recommendations of MacArthur."

MacArthur recommended use of air power over Manchuria, and supply and convoy aid to Nationalist Chinese forces in an invasion of Red China from their Formosa island refuge.

Mr. Truman said this might touch off another world war.

Knowland said Congress and the public might have prevented many Communist advances in Asia if "the Wedemeyer report had been made public three, two or even one year ago."

"The report will play an important part in the MacArthur inquiry," he added.

Bridges said:

"If General Wedemeyer's suggestion for arming South Koreans had been followed it is extremely unlikely that American boys would be dying in Korea today. . . . Now (another military leader seeks to offer realistic advice. Perhaps the lessons of the Wedemeyer report can yet profit America and the free peoples of the world."

"Circus Daddies" Buy Tickets for Children

To enable underprivileged children from Marion and nearby communities to see a performance of the Mills Bros. Circus when it comes to Marion Saturday, various Marion merchants and interested persons in Marion and surrounding towns, known as "Circus Daddies," have purchased tickets for such children.

Over 1,500 tickets for this project have been sold, the Junior Woman's Hospital Board reported today.

These tickets are being distributed for the Hospital Board members through the Salvation Army, the Marion County Welfare Department, and at the Marion County Children's Home, the Y.M.C.A. and in a number of churches. All boys and girls receiving these tickets will attend the afternoon performance of the three-ring circus.

In sponsoring the circus showing here, the Junior Woman's Hospital Board is raising money for its pediatrics ward fund. Advance reserved and general admission seat tickets are available from members of the board or at various business establishments here and in the county.

The Circus will play at the Crystal Lake show grounds, with performances at 2 and 8 p.m.

Women Prepare for 1952

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

THE women's divisions of both Democratic and Republican parties are gearing their plans and programs for the 1952 presidential campaign in which they expect women's participation to be the most intensive in history.

Mrs. India Edwards, Democrat, and Mrs. Gilford Mayes, Republican, in charge of women's activities of their respective parties, tell me the course is being set now for what the women will do in 1952, on all levels—national, state and local. Leaders in both groups are urging more women to run for public office.

Indications of the progress women have made to date are found in a recent survey made by the Republican National Committee. Their representation in Congress has been slight, though their gains in other public offices have shown steady increases.

Since 1917, when Miss Jeanette Rankin, (R-Mont.) the first woman was chosen, 49 women have been appointed, or elected, to both houses of Congress—21 Republicans, 28 Democrats. Today in the 82nd Congress, there are nine women. Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) is the only woman senator. She formerly served eight years in the House. She is the first woman national legislator to be appointed to a party policy committee. She is a member of the Senate Minority Policy Committee.

Serving in the house are Republicans Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, dean of women in the 82nd Congress, having first been elected in 1925 to fill the unexpired term of her late husband; Mrs. Frances P. Bolton; Mrs. Katharine St. George, N. Y.; Mrs. Cecil M. Harden, Ind.; Mrs. Marguerite S. Church, Ill., and Miss Ruth Thompson, Mich. There are two Democrats. Mrs. Reva Beck Bosone of Utah, and Mrs. Edna F. Kelly of N. Y.

American women have held official posts in our foreign service since the 20's. Today, 400 women are serving abroad as foreign service officers, reserve officers and staff officers. The women's roster represents about one-tenth of the entire corps. In addition, about 50 are assigned to the State Department in Washington.

In municipal government, three women are mayors of cities of over 5,000. As for the Federal Government, one-fourth of the total employment roster, or about 500,000 women are in federal service. About 500 occupy positions in policy-making and administrative fields. In addition, about 100 women are serving in important judicial posts in various parts of the country.

The Great Wall of China is 2,000 miles long.

BLOOM ON CUT BRANCHES

Now is the time to cut branches from plum, cherry, pussy willow, forsythia, spirea and almost any woody flowering shrub, to force them to bloom. The nearer to spring you cut them, the more quickly they'll burst into flowers.

Start with a basic cut, on either tree or shrub, cut back to a side branch and never leave unsightly stubs. Always select twigs with lots of buds.

Place your cut branches in a container filled with cold water and keep them on the floor in the coolest part of your basement. You probably won't have good results if you try to force blossoms in a warm dry room. Sprinkle the branch tops with water occasionally until flower buds are about to open and bloom. Before moving cut branches from a cool to a warm spot, sprinkle blooms with water.

Forsythia buds will burst open with beautiful golden blossoms to brighten your room in about eight to ten days.

John Morley Sees No War With Russia

Writer Speaks Before Executive Club Members

By EMORY J. ANDERSON

John Morley, columnist, foreign correspondent, and world traveler, told the members of the Executives Club last night what they could do as citizens to combat communism and make America strong.

Mr. Morley spoke to 190 members of the club at the Marion Country Club following a buffet dinner.

"First we must do everything in our power to see that our government fills the vacuum left in Japan by the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur," he said.

As a second point Mr. Morley suggested revison of the caliber of men appointed as diplomatic officials.

A third need he suggests is an expanded intelligence organization, he said. The facilities of the Central Intelligence Bureau and the Federal Bureau of Investigation should be expanded to combat spies.

Fourth, we must build up a hatred for communism and a love for Christianity and Democracy, he said.

Doesn't Foresee War

Mr. Morley listed three reasons why he did not think there would be a war with Russia in the immediate future and perhaps not even in this generation.

First, he said, was the Iron Curtain, which not only prevents Russians from seeing out but also prevents us from selling to about 200,000,000 customers. We have lost that trade, Mr. Morley said, and Russia is manufacturing and selling to them. Why should Russia attack us when she is winning the economic war?

The second reason is the Ukraine, Mr. Morley said. He told the group that there are over 45 million people in the Ukraine and they are Christians. they do not like the atheistic doctrines of the Russian government and they will fight only if attacked.

A third reason is fear of the atomic bomb. He said that in the evacuation of troops at Hungnam, almost half of the American forces at the last were in the city waiting to be taken off on ships. Mr. Morley said that if Russia had wanted to enter the war she would have at that time, when Russian submarines could have struck from Sevastapol with devastating force.

Cites Korea History

Mr. Morley cited the long history of wars that have been fought between China, Japan and Russia for control of Korea, for who controls Korea, controls the Pacific, he said.

He said the reason for the Korean war at this time was that Korea was sold down the river at Yalta, when Russia was given the northern half of the country north of the 38th parallel.

A native of Pacific Islands, Calif., Mr. Morley is about to leave on a trip to Norway and Sweden, then to Germany, Yugoslavia, Persia, India, Indo-China, Philippine Islands, China, Japan, Korea and back to the United States. He hopes to be back by Christmas. He has contributed to many national magazines, including The Saturday Evening Post, Readers' Digest and the Ladies Home Journal. He is the author of the book, "I Believe", and writes a syndicated daily column.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Floyd Yeager, president of the club.

Pioneer in the experimental field of ultra-violet and infra-red rays, his discoveries paved the way for many scientific developments.

Traceable to his ideas are the use of infra-red rays in forgery detection and in photography, as well as the use of "invisible light" in warfare.

Credit Motorist With Saving New Home

The alertness of an unidentified passing motorist saved the new home of Mrs. Nancy Thacker of 627 Blaine avenue from destruction by fire at 5:55 p.m. yesterday, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt reported today.

Workmen installing new screens at the Thacker home stacked the packing cartons they came in alongside the house. A passing pedestrian evidently threw a discarded match or cigaret into the pile setting it afire, Chief Sifritt said.

An alert motorist spotted the blaze just after it started and the blaze before it reached the turned in a fire alarm. Firemen siting of the house. There was from Central Fire Station put out no damage.

Austin Backs Truman Policy In Far East

Top U. S. Delegate To U.N. Takes Issue With MacArthur Views

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, declared last night that victory in Korea involves more than military defeat of the enemy and that the U.N. has scored some important triumphs in the 10 months of war in Asia.

This was Austin's reply to a charge by Gen. MacArthur that a policy vacuum exists in Korea. His speech to the New York State convention of Masonic grand masters was regarded by many observers as an indication of the stand the Truman administration would take in the congressional investigation of MacArthur's ouster as U.N. commander, which opens tomorrow.

Policy "Clear"

Austin said U.N. policy in Korea is clear, positive and consistent. It has, he said, roused the free peoples of the world to the need for mobilizing their strength, alerted them to the danger of aggression, brought them to a peak of unity and strengthened their will to resist.

Among the triumphs, he said, were these: Russia's timetable of conquest was upset; Communist puppets failed to occupy all Korea; Chinese puppets failed to drive the U.N. from the peninsula; Russia was served notice of collective resistance if she strikes elsewhere; and Russia's designs for future conquest have been exposed.

The aim, he continued, is "not conquest without limit, but peace without appeasement"—a result he described as "infinitely less costly than general war."

U.N. Objectives

Austin listed these U.N. objectives in Korea:

1. Politically—to establish a unified, independent and democratic Korea.

2. Militarily—to repel aggression and restore international peace and security in the area.

Patrol Lists Four Arrests

Youth Held In Hit-Skip Accident

Four traffic arrests, including one of a 15-year-old Upper Sandusky high school boy who has confessed to being the driver in a hit-skip accident last Friday, were reported today by the Marion substation of the state highway patrol.

At 11:30 p.m. last Friday a car driven by Ira Gordon Basto of Chicago was struck by a hit-skip driver as it traveled east of Route 30-North just west of Crestline.

William Mathias of Shelby, who was driving the car following the hit-skipper, supplied the patrol with a description of the car and approximate license number. Through cooperation between the Wyandot County sheriff, the Upper Sandusky police force and the patrol, various combinations of license numbers were eliminated until the one fitting the car's description was found.

The driver's identity was established by questioning. When confronted with charge filed against him by Mr. Basto at the court of Mayor Grover T. Weis at Crestline the youth confessed. He will be arraigned before Crawford County Juvenile Judge Constance Keller today on hit-skip driving charges.

Robert J. Hall, 28, of Westerville, O., was arrested at 7:30 p.m. yesterday on Route 42 north of Mt. Gilead and charged with speeding. Charles C. Davis, 26, was arrested at the same place at the same time. Patrolmen reported the two were racing. Both were arraigned before R. B. Bennington of Mt. Gilead. Both pleaded guilty and were assessed a fine of $35 and costs.

Walter C. Brown, 63, of Manuta, O., was arrested late yesterday on Route 4, north of Marion and charged with unsafe passing. He was cited to appear in Municipal court at 10 a.m. today.

Fight $400,000 Fire At Akron Chemical Plant

AKRON, O., May 2—(AP)—A spectacular fire broke out in a manufacturing and chemical building in East Akron today, exploding into streaks of flame that darted 100 feet in the air.

Sixty firemen were overcome by the noxious fumes from the burning, exploding chemicals. Fifty of them were given oxygen at the scene and the other 10 were revived in hospitals.

Fire Chief Frank Vernotzy, who called it "one of the worst fires I've ever had to fight," estimated the damages at $400,000. It took about nine hours to bring the Flames under control.

Wedemeyer Report Draws Acheson Reply

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the administration carried out the Wedemeyer recommendations on Korea with one exception.

He told a news conference the exception was the creation of the military mission independent of the Korean forces instead of the organization of a Korean scout force with American officers as Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer recommended in a 1947 report.

The Senate armed services committee yesterday released the report Wedemeyer made on a survey of Korea and China which he undertook at the request of President Truman. The report had been kept secret during the intervening period of almost four years.

The report, delivered in September, 1947, warned that "Soviet-inspired" North Koreans might invade North Korea.

Western Union Asks Rate Hike

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Co. today asked the Federal Communications Commission for permission to increase its domestic telegraph rates.

The company, in its new rate schedule filed with the FCC in Washington, asked that the increased rates become effective for interstate messages on June 1.

The revised schedules provide for an increase of approximately 9.6 percent in total charges for telegraph messages and money orders. The company estimates they will provide additional overall gross annual revenue of about $14,000,000, and estimated additional overall net annual revenues of approximately $11,000,000.

pedoes but later AP correspondent Tom Bradshaw said they used bombs with special fuses to cause the greatest amount of underwater damage.

One of the 18 floodgates was destroyed. A 10 foot hole was ripped in another.

Now the Reds will have to build bridges to cross the river. And their slow-working engineers will be easy targets for United Nations artillery and planes which blasted the drive out of the nine-day-old Communist offensive.

The front was quiet again Wednesday.

Ineffective Red efforts Tuesday to find a soft spot in Allied lines cost them 1,205 men. That was the lightest toll of the offensive. Nevertheless Red casualties for the drive rose well above 75,000.

Communists mounted light probing attempts Wednesday below the Hwachon dam in the center of the peninsula. These were blocked.

Test U. N. Lines

AP Correspondent Nate Polewetzky said the Reds were testing the U. N. lines along the Chunchon-Hongchon axis, a traditional invasion route down the spiny center of the peninsula.

The Reds also tried to punch through east of Hwachon dam near Inje on the 38th Parallel. Allied artillery, planes and infantry broke it up.

South Koreans still operating about 20 miles north of 38 on the east coast, broke up a probing attack southwest of Kansong.

Reds were out of contact with Allied forces on the western front north of Seoul.

Fifth Air Force planes, rounding out their 125,000th sortie of the Korean war, inflicted 500 casualties.

And the warplanes kept up a round-the-clock attack on Communist supply lines and concentrations. Unprecedented numbers of Red trucks still were rushing south as the Communists shifted their weight from the west to the central front.

Kefauver Report Given Approval

By The Associated Press

Public officials and newspapers generally accepted today the challenge of the U. S. senate crime committee for better local law enforcement in the cities most prominently mentioned in the group's report.

The crime committee report was released yesterday in Washington. There was almost immediate editorial and official response.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and his colleagues included a number of recommendations for federal legislation to block interstate crime. But they said primary responsibility for cleaning up the underworld rests with state and local officials.

This view was accepted generally in the first reaction to the committee's report, although it gave rise to some doubts that non-federal officials would be more effective in the future than they have been in the past.

There was widespread praise of the committee's report focusing public attention upon hitherto obscure rackets. But several newspapers suggested that the committee had not uncovered anything new.

On the whole, there was a feeling of "so far so good" — but "where do we go from here?"

Council

pital, James Mautz, hospital administrator said.

Appointment

The legislation also provides for the recommendation of the hospital staff of a candidate for appointment as chief of staff to the safety-service director, whose job it is to appoint a chief of staff annually. The legislation calls for the official appointment of the incumbent chief of staff, Dr. Jay L. Plymale, for the balance of the current calender year.

Councilman Don Quaintance, 5th Ward, chairman of council's municipal service committee, was chairman of the meeting which was attended by Councilman Jenkins, 2nd Ward; Rinehart, 3rd Ward; Conkle, 4th Ward and Sanden, 6th Ward.

The hospital was represented by Administrator Mautz, Dr. Plymale and Dr. Milton Axthelm.

Money

get—if you don't care how you get it.

Matter-of-factly, the crime committee discussed the earnings of these citizens among other:

A Florida deputy sheriff, salary $4,200 a year, who retired after four years with a new Cadillac and a $26,000 farm.

Frank Costello, the New York gambling figure, who gets $1,000 to $1,500 a month in "salary" from a Louisiana Casino.

Can't Read Or Write

Sam Perrone, who can't read or write, but has got anywhere from $40,000 to $65,000 a year for hauling scrap away from a Detroit stove factory.

There's a moral to all this:

Perrone didn't get to spend much of his income after he was sent to prison for six years as a convicted bootlegger.

Costello has been cited for contempt by the Senate committee, and the U. S. attorney in New York is considering perjury charges against him.

And Mickey Cohen — people keep shooting at him. He never knows when a bullet is going to separate him permanently from his bank account.

Easy money?

Well, you don't have worries like that when you work for a living.

AWAIT VOGELER INTERVIEW

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—The veil of secrecy surrounding the imprisonment of Robert Vogeler may be pierced today when the American businessman holds a news conference. Vogeler, 39, returned to the United States yesterday. Pursued by newsmen and photographers all his first day on American soil, Vogeler said he would hold a conference today in his hotel suite if he feels well enough.

30-DAY FORECAST

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—The Weather Bureau says spring is going to continue to be unusually warm over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation. Rainfall amounts are expected to be above normal over most of the western half of the country. In the northeast and in the Lake region subnormal amounts are indicated, while other areas east of the Mississippi will have near normal rainfall.

Inflation Can Be Checked, Stabilizer Says

Johnston Predicts Price Controls Will End in Two Years

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Economic stabilizer Eric Johnston assured businessmen today the government will hold the dam against "a new inflation flood" anticipated by Christmas when arms production reaches full tide.

"So far we've had only a flash-flood of inflation," he said, "compared to what we could have by early winter without the sternest kind of steps to counteract it."

In a speech prepared for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at its 39th annual meeting, Johnston promised to write wage-price ceilings off the books "the minute I feel controls are no longer necessary." He predicted that this day is about two years off.

The ESA administrator urged his audience of industrialists not to let down until the job is done. "We can't talk turkey to communism with a feather duster," he said.

Himself a former president of the chamber, Johnston urged its members to ignore the "fear salesmen" who warn that defense expansion will overbuild the industrial plant and leave the country ripe for a depression.

Johnston said the country will emerge with a production potential for civilian goods "that dwarfs all going records," and he went on:

"We will have a stockpile of arms so ample and a defense production capacity so big that an aggressor anywhere will count ten before he speaks—and then bite his tongue before he speaks at all. And then, God willing, we may padlock the loaded gambling den of war."

Lightning Puts Traffic Light Out of Order

The traffic light at South Prospect and Hill streets is out of order because it was struck by lightning Saturday night, Safety Service Director Ralph Forrest reported today.

The light is ordinarily turned off except during school hours. Monday an attempt to turn the light on failed and an electrician was called. He examined the control box and found all the plastic fittings inside the box shattered to dust. A new control system must be purchased before the light can be put in operation again.

MACARTHUR PROMISES TO RETURN. Speaking to thousands of his wife's homefolk, Gen. Douglas MacArthur (at mike) promised the people at Murfreesboro, Tenn., that he and Mrs. MacArthur would return to Murfreesboro. He also repeated to the crowd that Mrs MacArthur was his best soldier.

FOR, TO PARAPHRASE Karl Marx's statement above: Once in possession of China, Russia's power is tripled and overtops all the nations of the world combined.

Had the United States possessed one statesman in power in 1945, he would have appraised this situation clearly. There were many fine minds, out of power, who did, in 1945, appraise this situation correctly.

Dean Acheson is now virtually President of the United States because foreign affairs prevail over every domestic question that faces the country. He develops the position in international relations and then every other question has to be made to conform to it.

For instance, we have practically fixed it as a policy to give Europe $5,000,000,000 a year. Since the end of World War II, we have been giving Europe that amount of money or credit. Although the British have given up Marshall plan aid, they are to get military aid, which comes to the same thing. Therefore, our domestic budget has to include this amount, come what may.

Build a Better Marion for Our Children . . . VOTE "FOR" THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE!!!

LABOR is "for" the School Bond Issue

Our labor unions have pledged their wholehearted support in favor of the school bond issue. Men and women employed in the field of labor full well realize that the possibility of new industries coming to Marion will depend in large part on our available school facilities. They know that Marion will grow and expand only if we have adequate school facilities to attract other industries here.

INDUSTRY is "for" the School Bond Issue

You can talk to almost any manufacturer, large or small, and he will tell you that he too is going to vote for the school bond issue. He is not only concerned about his own children, but he is sincerely interested in the children of his employees and the future welfare of all of these children. He knows that unless proper educational facilities are given our children of today, they will find their world of tomorrow much more difficult in which to live, and opportunities definitely harder to find.

RETAILERS are "for" the School Bond Issue

If you are in doubt, as your baker, your grocer, your druggist, in fact, any retailer, and the replies will be the same, "We are going to vote for the school bond issue because we firmly believe that the children of Marion are entitled to at least an average or normal education." They will also tell you that if we have better schools, we will have better students who will grow up into better men and women and will be better prepared to maintain our high standard of living. Remember . . . good schools are good business!

YES . . . EVERYONE SHOULD VOTE "FOR" THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE IF WE WANT MARION TO GROW ! ! !

Sex, Violence and the Bogarts

When last heard from, Humphrey Bogart and his wife, Lauren Bacall, accompanied by Katherine Hepburn, were plunging through Africa, making a picture. This must be easily the most picturesque and altogether startling safari on the Dark Continent since David Livingston. I can just see Miss Bacall being established as the white goddess of the lower Congo, Miss Hepburn teaching the natives the proper Hartford, Conn., accent and Bogie swindling the headhunters out of their firewater.

John Crosby

They ought to make a film out of the expedition itself which, I'm sure, would be more interesting than what ever dark purpose Mr Bogart has in mind. I for one would like to see the expression on a zebra's face when it catches its first glimpse of Miss Hepburn. I'd like to hear Miss Bacall's famous line: "I'm hard to get. Just ask me" rendered in Swahili. Ah, well, stop dreaming,' Crosby.

Before they took off for Africa, the Bogarts transcribed an adventure radio series called "Bold Venture" which is now on the air in about 150 cities (not yet including New York). The networks have been trying to entice the Bogarts, whose joint sex appeal could probably sell boxcars, on to the air for years. They turned down the networks in favor of a transcribed syndicated series which offers much less prestige but on the other hand gives the Bogarts far greater freedom. Freedom, for example, to go off to Africa and make pictures while the radio show puts money in the bank over here.

"BOLD VENTURE" is not anything that hews out new territory in radio fiction or any other kind of fiction. In fact, if you have ever seen the Bogarts in a picture, you will be pretty well briefed as to their radio show. The title stems from the name of Mr. Bogart's boat which he sails all over the Caribbean getting into one scrape after another. Mr. Bogart, thinly disguised under the name of Slate Shannon, is a rough and tough adventurer open for hire to anyone who has sunken gold or other larceny on his mind.

Miss Bacall, known on this show as Sailor Duval, occupies the position — now hold on to your chairs here—of Mr. Bogart's "ward and love interest," it says here in a press release. This is the most dubious relationship to be permitted on the air in my memory and I think "ward and love interest" is the most entertaining euphemism to come along in some time.

"BOLD VENTURE" opens to the accompaniment of a lot of exotic music which has beads of equatorial sweat all over it. This is to put you in the proper mood for the sex and violence which are to follow. A fairly recent and typical program involved a search for sunken gold on an island in Flamingo Bay. During this hunt, Miss Bacall got kidnaped by a trigger-happy, sex-mad college boy whose intentions were strictly dishonorable. This left Mr. Bogart in the clutches of a faithless wife whose feelings toward him were hardly maternal.

Before Mr Bogart's "ward and love interest" got back into the proper arms, the script had been littered with a couple of corpses, one brutal beating administered by Mr. Bogart and a hurricane. All that and buried gold, too. What else can you ask? Miss Bacall's sultry, vibrant voice is as effective on radio as it is on the screen. In fact, if it were any more supercharged than it is, it'd blow out a couple of tubes. As to Mr Bogart's sex appeal, you'll have to check with your wife. He and I are on different wave lengths.

The area of Africa is three times that of Europe.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Young Children, Often Victims of This Disorder

Infants and young children are especially subject to attacks of diarrhea. In many cases the upset is due to infection with specific germs, and hence can be treated with one or another of the antibiotic drugs. Just as often, however, the illness seems to occur in the absence of any infection. The problem of handling it is made more difficult and is largely a matter of soothing the digestive tract until food can again be tolerated.

Recently, a number of children with this type of diarrhea were treated with good results by giving them dried bananas. In carrying out the treatment, the doctor placed the children on feedings of one tablespoon of dried banana per pound of body weight for each 24-hour period. Two ounces of water were used to dilute each tablespoon of dried banana. Enough feeding was made up for the whole day and the total amount was divided into nine feedings. Boiled water was given as often as possible between feedings.

At the end of two or three days, if the infant's condition was improved, the dried banana was given in skimmed milk. Older infants were also given well-cooked cereals, beef broth, mashed vegetables, and custard.

In those instances where the diarrhea was severe before treatment began, the infants were first given fluids by injection under the skin or into a vein to restore normal fluid balance.

The results obtained by the use of the dried banana were compared with those obtained with other methods of treatment, such as a period of starvation during which fluids were given by injection under the skin, followed by the use of formulas of skimmed milk, or protein milk with water or tea between feedings.

With the banana treatment it was found that the average time required for a cure was 2.9 days. By the other method of treatment it was 5.02 days. At the end of 72 hours, out of the 20 children treated with the banana preparation, 17 were rated in good condition and three fair. With the other method of treatment, seven children were good, seven fair, and six poor. Sixteen of the 20 children treated with the banana gained weight during the treatment.

It would seem, therefore, that dried banana has an effective substance in the treatment of diarrhea in infants and young children.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Only the knowledge gained from experience of a small daughter, that she did not mean to be impertinent but was simply expressing her excitement at being mystified kept me from reproving her sharply But I also knew that I must deal with her conceit at her own sapience in which she patently was luxuriating

You are being very silly' I told her in boasting of what you know Any child could guess that you were moving just by watching Aunt Katharine but young Peter's outdoor things on him And I suppose you overheard or saw something in the living room that made you think of Uncle Phil's suite'

My eyes were fixed steadily on hers, and she reddened and squirmed

'Well, she said at last 'I saw that a lot of the luggage had been taken away and the boys looked all hot and bothered And I heard Junior say Gosh I'm glad Operator Ventizen is over with What else could I think especially as my things and young Peter's and Aunt Katharine's and Granzie's were gone and the rest were here?'

I forgot the rep of and spoke the thought which had flashed into my mind at her recital

You're very observant Faith I said That ought to help you in whatever work you take up when you're grown

'That's what our nursery school teacher used to tell me when I was small she recalled I choked back a chuckle such a role have insulted Consuelo sorely She used to put things in piles here is work of hers and tell her I've could remember of what was in each pile I used to be the best every day she added and there was no boasting in her voice simply a statement of fact

'That was very nice I said and now I must tell you about our moving I want you to listen remember what I want you to do but also remember that you are to say nothing about it to anyone No' as she began to cross her heart,' I don't want to waste time Your word is sufficient Now listen carefully'

She took her hand down, and gave me her undivided flattering attention

Young Peter I began is a great darling of a boy if he isn't now I can tell you why or for where we're going If some But Grandma's having him guarded very carefully

Her eyes were avid above the interest

I suppose she interrupted that young Peter is hooked up with some of Grandma's hush-hush stuff

I recognized her brother's vocabulary but repressed a chuckle without any difficulty fixed her with a glittering eye, and spoke with severity

'Faith' I said 'What have I told you about using those words'

'But you said I could use them if we were alone she said, with justice

'But not anymore' I said hastily This is too important I don't want you even to think them I just want you to try to help Aunt Katharine and Granzie in everything they want you to do

She gave a sudden start and running over to me gave me a convulsive hug

'Mummy she called 'where are you going to be' Aren't you going to be up here with us'

I gave her a tender embrace and kissed her face now wet with tender tears

'You must not disappoint me darling I said I am counting on you to be my brave girl I shall see you often but I must stay down here, to help Daddy and Granzie

But Mummy' she said sobbing you'll be in danger down here I can't stand that

Marsox Bow in 12 Innings to Richmond

Play Giants Tonight In Springfield

By JOHN SHORT

Marion's Red Sox were stopped 10-9 in a 12-inning marathon last night by Richmond at Lincoln Park. The game was played under protest by Skipper Elmer Yoter from the ninth frame.

The loss broke a four-game winning streak for the Marsox and shoved them into a second place tie with the Newark Yankees. Springfield moved into the O-I Loop topspot with an 11-5 win over Lima.

The Sox travel to Springfield tonight for a two-game stand. Either Dick Tarys or Baker Hyde will pitch. They will return to the Lincoln Park ball yard Friday for their first local meeting with Newark.

Protests

Manager Elmer Yoter lodged a vigorous protest with Umpire Groves in the ninth frame and announced his team was playing the game under protest when Groves refused his request.

With Bob Marciniec at bat, one out and Sadowski on first, the batter assumed a ount position, he took the first pitch and Groves called it a ball.

The next pitch cut the plate and was called a strike. Richmond Skipper Ralph DiLullo rushed to the plate to argue the calling of the first pitch. Groves conferred with base umpire Tom Kennedy and reversed the count to two strikes. Yoter, rushing in from his third base coaching station, argued but to no avail.

Bob Marciniec relieved Pete Scott for the locals in the seventh frame and was charged with the loss. Al Tinker who took over for starter Sandell in the sixth received credit for the win.

Trailing 6-5 at the start of the eighth inning, the Tigers scored two runs on a walk and a three-base error by Ed Sadowski. The Marsox came back to knot the count in the bottom of the eighth when Jim Evanick doubled, took third on an error and a long fly by Brodowski.

Fatal 12th

Marciniec then set the Tigers down in order for three innings until the fatal 12th. Sadowski pounded out a single in the ninth but was erased in a double play. In the 11th big Mary Stendel pounded out a double but Vinci struck out to retire the side.

O'Connor opened the 12th with a base on balls and moved to second on a sacrifice. Gust was walked intentionally but Frinzi drilled a double to centerfield scoring the two runners. He moved to third on a Marion error and scored on Hoehn's single.

The Sox came storming back with Evanick and Brodowski drawing free passes and John Andrews chipping in with his second hit, a double to right center. With Andrews perched on second with the tying run, Radick walked but Rinzi skied to the infield.

Harding Gets By Newark, 6-1, in Baseball Tourney

VETERAN TRAINER'S DERBY HOPEFUL. Timely Reward, Jockey Hedley Woodhouse up, is shown as he parades postward. The bay son of Reaping Reward-Voletime will probably go in the Kentucky Derby despite the fact he has not won in 10 starts. George M. Odom, the veteran trainer, feels he has good prospects in Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's colt in the classic at Churchill Downs Saturday.

Jockey vs. Trainer

Derby Looms as Scrap Between Arcaro, Jones

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2—(AP)—With a distinct lack of outstanding class in the field for the 1951 Kentucky Derby, it began to appear today as if the $100,000 gallop Saturday might be a scrap between Eddie Arcaro and Ben Jones.

At least, these two old partners in this famous turf classic have a pretty good hand in the 77th derby. This showed up yesterday in the $10,000 derby trial, a one mile race which affords three-year-old horses their final big prep for the main event.

Fanfare, a Calumet Farm colt which wasn't even considered for the derby less than two weeks ago, pounded down to the wire a driving winner of the derby trial. More impressive, thought some observers, was the fast-closing Battle Morn, owned by the Cain Hoy Stable and ridden by Arcaro. Battle Morn, running far back as usual, came with a bang to get fourth.

Won Five

Plain Ben Jones has won five derbies, more than any other trainer. Banana nose Eddie Arcaro has ridden four derby winners, more than any jockey.

Although Arcaro piloted three winners for Jones—Lawrin, Whirlaway and Citation—they will be on the other side of the fence Saturday when the bugle calls them to the post at 4:30 p. m. (E.S.T.).

The derby trial did little to clear up the confusion, for most of the more highly regarded horses skipped the race. Now the verdict goes right down to the grand climax, where Battle Morn, Fanfare, Repetoire, Mameluke, Sonic, Big Stretch, Ruhe, and the others will have to put up or shut up.

There is little doubt, however, that Battle Morn and Fanfare would be close to favoritism on the mutual board, if for no other reason than a lot of horse addicts saw the derby trial. Battle Morn seems to have the edge here for his trait of coming from far back, and the derby itself is a quarter of a mile longer than yesterday's race.

"I think my horse would have worn those others down if we'd have gone a little farther," Arcaro said later. Moody Jolley, trainer for the Cain Hoy Stable, agreed:

"I think he'll improve, and I believe the mile and a quarter will make a lot of difference."

Sphinx-Like Self

Unpredictable Jones, who said similar things about Ponder two years ago then sprung him loose to grab the derby, remained his usual sphinx-like self.

Nobody will know how many horses will start until post time, because some, like Greentree Stable's Big Stretch won't go except on a dry track.

However, it appears as if 17 to 20 might tackle the thing.

The weather man promised scattered showers today, which would help break the heat wave which shot the mercury to 92 yesterday. But, he saw no rain for derby day, and the thousands beginning to pour into derby-town are thankful for that.

Col. Bill Corum, president of the Downs, forecast a record throng of some 110,000 Saturday if the weather stays clear.

Files Lawsuit Against Baseball

LOS ANGELES, May 2—(AP)—Organized baseball faces another lawsuit, this one a plea for $375,000 filed in Federal Court yesterday by Pitcher George Earl Toolson who claims he has been relegated to an "ineligible list" in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Toolson formerly pitched for Louisville and, briefly, for San Francisco and Oakland in the Pacific Coast League.

He said he refused to report to the Binghamton, N. Y., club in 1950 on orders of the Newark, N. J., club, and was placed on the ineligible roll. Since then he has been unable to obtain employment in baseball.

CHADWICK IN 12TH SEASON

NEW YORK — (AP)—Referee Bill Chadwick and Lineman Sammy Babcock are the veteran officials in the National Hockey League. Chadwick is in his 12th season while Babcock is working his 11th. Both played amateur hockey in Madison Square Garden before turning to officiating.

Edington Hurls Three-Hitter For Prexies

Coach Pete Howison's Harding High School baseballers spanked Newark High's Wildcats, 6-1, in the Central District Class A tournament at Columbus.

Jim Edington turned in a three-hit pitching job for the Prexies as his mates pounded Newark's ace Quickel for eight safeties. Quickel was relieved by Foote in the sixth.

The Newark team went into the game with four games, three of them wins, under their belts. Yesterday's tourney tilt was the first full game for the Prexies. They had played five innings at Galion and three at Lima Central.

The Harding crew will meet Washington Court House this afternoon at 4 on the No. 4 diamond at Ohio State University. Howison said Eddie Morse would draw the mound assignment for the locals.

Babe Steals Show In Women's Open

FRESNO, Calif., May 2—(AP)—Golf's greatest woman player, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, stole the show again.

Coming from behind with a smashing final round yesterday, the boss lady of the links won the $3,000 Valley Women's open tournament with a 54-hole score of 225. More than 1,000 fans saw her knock in a 16 foot putt for a birdie 4 on the last hole to easily clinch it with 37-36—73.

It was her sixth victory in the current tour; earned her top money of $750 and increased her total 1951 earnings to $5,270. She finished second in two other tournaments.

Mrs. Zaharias scored 77-75—72. Patty Berg, Minneapolis, chunky dean of the pros, improved day by day with scores of 78-77-76 for a 231 and second prize of $500.

Betty Jameson, whose first round 72 was the best of the tournament, ended in a three way tie at 233 for third with Louise Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., and Alice Bauer, Midland, Tex. The three each won $250.

Other money winners included Peggy Kirk, Findlay, O., 244 for $125.

Harding Trackmen First at Fremont

Harding High School rolled over Findlay and Fremont yesterday at Fremont High School in a triangular track meet. The Prexy runners registered 72½ points. Findlay, their nearest foe, netted 58½ while host Fremont ended with 17 points.

The Findlay crew showed their main strength in the field events and picked up an early lead the locals were forced to overcome in the running events. Harding tracksters iced the verdict by sweeping the first three places in the mile and half mile and by taking both relays.

Paul Ludwig paced the local scoring with 14½ points. He placed first in both hurdle events, took second in the shot put with a heave of 46 feet-10¼ inches and held down a post on the winning mile relay team.

Dan Day proved to be the hard-luck king of the meet. A false start with no recall in the 100-yard dash left Day and Dave Ulrich at the blocks with a five-yard deficit to make up. In the 440-yard dash, Day was nosed out by Findlay's Bill Garnes in a photo finish. Spectators thought Day had won the event but the judges awarded the decision to Garnes.

Coach Ken Somerlot said yesterday's meet was an indication that the Harding Night Relays Friday at Harding stadium probably would be a record breaking meet from start to finish.

His other hitless innings were compiled against Wadsworth in a seven-frame contest and in a previous game with Massillon which was rained out after four.

Scores Fall Off In A.B.C. Play

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 2—(AP)—Scoring dropped off considerably in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday, the first regular day of action after five days of booster team competition.

The best total in last night's shooting was a 2,860 count by the west end quint of Detroit. The Polland plastering five of Minneapolis was not with 2,768 as anchorman Gene Hanschen had a 652 series, the best of the 40-team squad.

The best individual performances of the four singles and doubles squads was the 1,902 all-events total recorded by Al Melancon of Minneapolis. He had a 662 in the singles, 613 in the doubles and 627 in the all-event.

Feller Turns Back Boudreau, and Red Sox

Former Tribe Skipper Gets One Hit Off Bob

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

One last ambition—to get another shot at a World Series victory—is spurring Bob Feeler on to what may be one of the greatest seasons of his illustrious career.

Feller, baseball's best right-hand pitcher since the days of Walter Johnson and Pete Alexander, is a fixture in the hurlers hall of fame with his strikeout records, two no-hitters and 200 plus victories. The Cleveland righthander has realized all his ambitions—except one. Despite two cracks at it, a World Series triumph thus far has eluded him.

This is the year, avers the erstwhile fireballer. Reaching the twilight of his career, the 32-year-old Feller knows he does not have too much time left. After all, Bobby has been pouring them in since 1936. His right arm has the cunning but undoubtedly has lost some of the smoke that used to blind enemy batters.

Flashes

Pitching with head as well as his arm, Feller is showing flashes of his former greatness this season. He has made three starts, has gone the route each time and has won all three.

Feller pitched his best game of the campaign last night, whipping the power-packed Boston Red Sox, 7-1, with a six-hitter. Aiming for his sixth 20-game season, and his first since 1947, Bob has surrendered only four runs and 21 hits in 27 innings.

The crowd of 53,462 paying customers greeted Boudreau with a deafening roar when he tugged on his cap and went into his familiar crouch at the plate. Thousands stood up while Lou—Cleveland's manager for nine years until he was fired last November— took the first pitch for a ball.

He drove a long fly to Larry Doby near the 380-foot mark that time, hit a double in the fourth and flied out his last two times up. Afield he looked like the Boudreau of old in starting a first-inning double play. But he heaved a wild relay to the plate on Doby's double in the fifth for one of four Boston errors.

As the game progressed, Boudreau had to share the spotlight with Harry Simpson, a skinny Negro making his first major league start, and Feller.

Still Tied

The victory kept the Indians in a first-place tie withWashington. The Senators overcame an 8-3 deficit to outlast the Browns in a 13-inning night affair at St. Louis, 9-8. Mickey Vernon's homer off Cliff Fannin, broke up the game. Mickey Harris was the winner.

The St. Louis Cardinals took undisputed possession of first place in the National League, whipping Johnny Sain and the Braves under the Boston lights, 5-2. The Braves managed to hold on to second place when Pittsburgh upset the Dodgers in Brooklyn, 6-2. The Phillies tied the Dodgers for third, shading the Cincinnati Reds in a Philadelphia night game, 6-5. New York's awakening Giants made it two in a row with a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in a Polo Grounds evening encounter.

New York's Yankees stayed close on the heels of the American League leaders, tripping the White Sox in Chicago, 8-3. The cellarite Philadelphia Athletics rallied for eight runs in the 11th inning to route the Tigers in Detroit, 9-1, and end their 10-game losing streak.

Home runs by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra helped Vic Raschi gain his third victory for the Yankees Orestes Minoso, obtained from Cleveland, made his White Sox debut with a two-run homer his first time at bat. The Yanks played without Joe Di Maggio, who rested a stiff neck.

Sparks A's

Rookie Lou Limmer's three-run double sparked the Athletics' eight-run uprising against loser Dizzy Trout and Gene Bearden. Hank Wyse was the winner.

Tommy Poholsky gained his second St. Louis victory with a six-hitter against the Braves. He was aided by Stan Musial and Steve Bilko who hit homers.

Robin Roberts survived a five-run eighth inning by the Reds to register his third victory for the Phils.

A grand slam homer by shortstop Alvin Dark in the sixth won for the Giants. Jim Hearn, aided by reliefer Sheldon Jones, staggered through to victory. Paul Minner was the loser. Umpire Frank Dascoli cleared the Cub bench of all 21 players in the fourth inning. The Cubs had been riding him after he called a balk on Minner.

Ralph Kiner's third homer was one of the 15 hits amassed by the Pirates off four Brooklyn pitchers. Cliff Chambers won his second game throttling the Dodgers with six hits. Erv Palica was the Brooklyn loser.

Louis Fight On TV at Nine

The scheduled fight between former champion Joe Louis and Omelio Agramonte, Cuban heavyweight, will be shown at 9 p.m. tonight over WBNS-TV. Previously the Wednesday night fights were shown at 10 p.m.

It will be the second meeting between the two fighters. Louis won a decision in their first meeting. The bout will be staged in Detroit.

SLOW ON WHISTLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Jim Konstanty, the ace relief pitcher of the Phillies, apparently enjoys watching his basketball rather than blowing a repeated whistle. Making his Madison Square Garden debut as a basketball referee, 16 minutes elapsed before Konstanty called a foul in the Cornell-N.Y.U. game.

Louis Ready For Cuban In Comeback

DETROIT, May 2—(AP)—Has former heavyweight champion Joe Louis learned to throw his knockout punch again?

You'll get an answer tonight, Louis, who is trying radical measures to regain his kayo power, tackles Cuba's Omelio Agramonte at Olympia Stadium.

Louis ranks as a solid 10-1 favorite to win the fifth fight in his comeback drive. The scheduled 10-round bout will be televised and broadcast nationally.

Joe, whose explosive right made him champion from 1937 to 1949, failed to knock out any of his first four comeback foes. Joe won all bouts, two on decisions and two when referees stopped the slaughter.

Agramonte, a lanky 187-pounder with a fair right hand punch, lasted all 10 rounds against Joe in one of those fights.

For tonight's meeting Joe altered his training program in hopes of ending the bout sooner.

Louis, anxious to fight Ezzard Charles again for the heavyweight title, changed from his shuffling style in ring workouts. His new style: a tip-toe prance.

Also to speed his punching and footwork he has been doing two miles of fast roadwork instead of longer distances at a jog.

Louis will get 40 percent of the net gate which may shrink because of a strike that has tied up Detroit's public transit system. He'll also get $10,000 as his television cut.

Agramonte, who has fought mostly against lesser-known, will get 12½ percent of the net receipts and $1,000 for the television appearance.

GOOD DAY FOR ENSIGNS

MIAMI—(AP)—It all happened within six hours the same day here recently. In the afternoon at Hialeah a race horse named Ensign won his first race. That same night at Miami Beach a greyhound of the same name won his first race.

BIG AND LITTLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The most player to be employed by an American Hockey League team during a single season was 43 by the Washington team in 1942-43. The fewest used in a season was 15, which appeared in the Philadelphia lineups in two seasons.

OPENING DAY TRADITION

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Cincinnati has opened on its home grounds each year since the National League was formed. Because of the opening day tradition that exists in Cincinnati, the Reds are permitted to continue opening at home each season. Other cities rotate their home openings.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, May 2—(UP)—Stocks steadied at the opening today in moderately active dealings.

The modest improvement in prices at the opening today was an extension of yesterday's sharp upswing in the industrial group which carried the component of the average to its best level since June 6, 1930.

Oil equities, which have been moving up sharply recently, moved irregularly. Standard Oil Company (N. J.) on 1,000 shares slipped ¼ to 116¼. Deep Rock Oil fell ½ to 56¼ and Sinclair Oil was unchanged at 39¾ on 2,000 shares.

Steels were active and generally higher. U. S. Steel, ex-dividend, rose ⅛ to 44¼ with 1,000 shares changing hands. Republic Steel added a small fraction. Bethlehem Steel eased.

Automotive stocks rose slightly. Rails were quiet and generally higher. Tire stocks continued their current advance and they tacked on small gains.

Trading turned quiet a few minutes after the opening with the market holding its initial gains.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Some homemakers in the says women bring their worries twice a week instead of every day they'd have a whole week's rest for a vacation. Next question from the husbands and look quite the worst.

Shucks anybody knows if most women didn't get out of the house every day to buy groceries new wash get out of the house period.

It should be in the marriage contract that a wife is entitled to a month's vacation with pay every year but most fellows figure a present of a mink on Mother's Day about covers their obligation to help all of their dreams.

* * *

But I just want to warn the home makers institute that he who peeps over the kitchen sink with a blueprint and a stop watch is in dangerous territory for an efficiency expert.
